Costs

TARIFF BOARD HEARS EXPERT

Figures On Costs Need Not Be Made Public, Group Chairman Says

OTTAWA, Feb. 2.—The tariff board Wednesday refused to order the Imperial Oil Company to make public figures on the cost a gallon of gasoline produced at the company's Burnia refinery.

It was arranged, however, that the costs should be given to representatives of the Alberta Petroleum Producers' Association and of the Alberta Automobile Association, governments at a private conference last night. R. V. LeSueur, vice-president of Imperial agreeing to this suggestion.

Dr. George Brown, professor of petroleum engineering at Michigan State University, Ann Arbor, was called Wednesday by Walter Campbell,

LIABLE FINES
 "and will permit it to give out information that is by nature confidential, or require it to be made public," said chairman George Sedgewick. He also asked for Sarnia refinery cost figures.

LeSeuer said oil from the United States mid-continent fields cost Imperial at Sarnia $19.4 a barrel, including all taxes and pipe line charges paid.

Alberta producers seek information as to the relation between this cost and the cost a gallon of gasoline.

Dr. Brown, introduced as an international authority on petroleum, said the base price posted in the field for U.S. mid-continent crude, 36 degree gravity, was $12.34, plus two cents a point for each additional degree of gravity. Turnure Valley oil on the same basis was worth $11.44 a barrel.

BE WORTH MORE

In certain types of refineries, the Turnure Valley product would be worth more than the U.S. mid-continent product. Dr. Brown estimated. Some United States refineries might make more money from Montana crude than from Turnure Valley.

At the Regina refinery he estimated Turnure Valley crude to be worth approximately 30 cents more than the U.S. mid-continent. Storage freight differentials on both the crude and the plant products necessary for its refining.

Plant products added at Regina to the crude rating, cost approximately 10 cents a barrel,

CHEAPER TO CANADA

Canadians could purchase gasoline cheaper from United States refineries than United States dealers could, said Dr. Brown. Prices for gasoline sold at fixed dealers' prices in the United States were allowed on this price and allowances made for freight differences.

Such arrangements prevented destructive price wars in the territory of any group of refineries. The United States had no export tax on gasoline purchased for sale outside the refinery territory. Thus a Canadian retailer could purchase gasoline from the United States and obtain jobber discounts.

"A purchaser might save six cents a gallon and undersell the Canadian dealer in Canada," said Dr. Brown.

IS IT USUAL

"It is a regular thing for United States refineries to sell to Canada," asked Commissioner M. Campbell.

"It is certainly a thing I expect the refineries do," said Dr. Brown. "I don't know about the Montana fields but there is certainly a lot of it done around my home town, Detroit."

LeSueur told the board Wednesday Imperial and other companies are seeking to open the market for Turner Valley's crude oil. The 42 per cent production quota would be increased as soon as the market could absorb more.

His company and the British-American Oil Company had already recorded contracts for the purchase of the oil for use in selling the Alberta product to supply the western Canada market, he said.

Milk Price Up
TORONTO, Feb. 3.—Price of manufacturing milk delivered to Ontario factories in January was announced at $1.47 a hundred pounds by the Ontario Milk Control Board Tuesday. December price was $1.42.

Alberta Said Facing Teacher Shortage In 18 Months

HIGH TEACHING STANDARD AND PAY CUT CAUSE

Dr. G. Fred McNally Addresses School Trustees' Convention

CALGARY, Feb. 3.—Alberta is faced with a shortage of school teachers the delegates to the Alberta school trustees' convention learned here Wednesday.

"Inside of 18 months there will be a definite shortage of teachers in the province," Dr. G. Fred McNally, deputy minister of education, reported.

"The people who will be unable to get teachers will be the pioneers districts," he said. "School boards in outlying districts already were having difficulty in obtaining teachers."

The decline in the number of persons in the teaching profession is being caused by the high standards demanded by the Department of Education, a decrease in normal students and reductions in salaries during recent years.

Dr. C. A. Staples of Stettin, president of the Trustees' Association, presided at the convention. There are 354 delegates, representing districts in all parts of the province. The convention continues until Friday.

VOTE IN UNIT
The convention reaffirmed its demand that all school districts should have the right to decide by vote of the ratepayers before the appointment of a larger school unit.

It also urged the government to give local school trustees complete autonomy in the appointment of teachers wherever a larger school unit is established.

Delegates decided the establishment of the larger school unit, a consolidation of separate districts, denied the trustees the right of democratic principles.

DEMAND
A similar resolution regarding the larger unit was sent to the government a year ago. The government replied through the department of education that "in a democracy the people elect representatives to carry on their business. It has never been the practice under the present constitution to give the people the right to elect representatives to carry on their business."

The rural delegation, under the chairmanship of W. A. Church, Medicine Hat, entered a protest against the policy of the department of education in insisting on a larger unit which would include the consideration of proper salary and salary disputes to be settled by a board which would include the representatives of the local trustees' association and the school inspectors.

YEARS' NOTICE
It was also urged school districts to give one year's notice when textbooks were to be changed.

A resolution from the Calgary, Brantford and other districts urged that school districts through text books be made uniform throughout the province, which would be a step toward the general session of the convention later.

DEATH BECKONS
DOROTHEA ANTEL
BRAVE CRIPPLE

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Dorothea Antel, former actress whose cheerful acceptance of a life of invalidism won her the sobriquet, "The Gilded Girl in the World," died last night of pneumonia. She had been laid for 18 years in a steel corset.

Miss Antel, who injured her spine in a backstage fall at Hartford, Conn., in 1919, had lived in poverty by conducting a greeting card shop over her bedside telephone.

"Don't make it a pathetic story," she always told reporters who visited her. "I would rather have it be a story of a woman who knew what it happened. I suppose I shall some day. Maybe I'll bring my chance to cheer up other people and show them how grateful they should be for health."

Banker Gives Explanation Of Canadian Loan

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—James P. Spinnery, general manager of the Bank of Montreal, who arrived here Wednesday from London, said that the reason the Canadian $100,000,000 conversion loan floated in London last month, was not fully subscribed was because it was a long time to replace earlier loans of $100,000,000.

Mr. Spinnery, whose bank acts as fiscal agent for the Canadian government in London, said that the loan was floated "in London" because it was a long time to replace earlier loans of $100,000,000.

Probe Grain Firm

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—T. D. Duvall, chief of the United States commodity exchange administration, said Wednesday his agency had not completed investigation of market operations of the Chicago Grain Company of Illinois. The concern has been charged with "wildly manipulating" the grain market last September by an unauthorizing committee of the Chicago board of trade.

Queen Elizabeth Consents To Christen Newest Liner

LONDON, Feb. 3.—The world's largest ship, an 80,000-ton liner now being built at Newcastle, will be christened "Queen Elizabeth" by the Queen Mother, who will be named in her honor, and will christen the vessel at its launching.

The Queen Elizabeth has been ordered to be named "Queen Elizabeth" by the Queen Mother, who will be named in her honor, and will christen the vessel at its launching.

It will be the first time any shipping company will own two liners christened by living British Queens.

The launching takes place four years and one day after launching of the Queen Mary, Sept. 26, 1934.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Queen Mary will visit the "distressed areas" of South Wales shortly. Lord Vici, president of the National Council for Social Services, announced Wednesday. The Queen Mother has expressed a desire to inspect industrial conditions in that region and preparations are now underway for her tour, he said.

Misrepresentation Deluge For Farm Bonus, Report

SASKATOON, Feb. 3.—Misrepresentation on the part of Saskatchewan applicants for the farm bonus scheme has caused the Bureau of Labor and Public Welfare much trouble this year, according to word received here Wednesday by Frank Eklund, secretary of the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan division.

Thomas Molloy of Regina, commissioner in charge of the scheme, told Eklund that "never in the history of the scheme since 1930 have we experienced so much misrepresentation of applicants that must be rejected."

He reported close to 13,000 applications had been reported so far and that most of those were being rejected. He said that the number of persons who applied for the bonus was also quite high, it had been found, and conclusions for this reason were many.

OPPOSITION TO PROVISIONS OF BILL RECORDED

Amalgamation Of Coal Mines Seen as Socialistic Legislation

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Prime Minister Chamberlain last night received a deputation, headed by Sir Nevill Martinham-Buller, conservative member of the House of Commons for Northampton, which protested against the compulsory amalgamation provision of the government's coal bill.

Mr. Chamberlain promised careful consideration of the points raised by the deputation.

Representative who is believed to be a large section of the Conservative party in the House of Commons urged drastic alterations in the bill, and, if possible, abandonment of the compulsory amalgamation provision.

The move followed a meeting of party members Tuesday at the invitation of a small group of coal-miner members, and it was reported opposition to the bill might assume the proportions of a "revolt" in Conservative ranks.

An amendment embodying the alterations decided on at the meeting also was drafted and will be brought down in the House for discussion. The amendment carried the names of 20 supporters.

Opponents of the amalgamation provision claim that, were the bill passed, no industry would be safe from "socialist legislation" which might be put through parliament by any government.

The bill provides for nationalization of coal royalties but leaves the actual direction of the mines to the present management. However, under a coal-mining bill, there would have power to amalgamate properties to secure greater efficiency in the industry.

WEST YET HAS BIG POTENTIAL YIELD IS CLAIM

TORONTO, Feb. 3.—Dr. E. S. Archibald, director of the Central Experimental farm at Ottawa, told the annual meeting of the Ontario Farmers' Association here Tuesday. "The story the West is doing is perfectly ridiculous," Wheel production in the prairie had been valued at $2,150,000,000 in the past 20 years, Dr. Archibald said, and in the next 20 years there will be another $2,000,000,000 worth crop.

FALLS VIEW BRIDGE TO BE CUT IN PIECES

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Feb. 3.—It was announced last night a contract between the International Railway Company, owner of the collapsed Falls View bridge, and J. L. Bouch and Son of Buffalo, N.Y., had been signed, and that work will start today to cut up the bridge wreckage which is blocking the free movement of an ice-jam in the Niagara river.

Ten specially trained men will be employed in the dangerous job of cutting the 1,200-foot bridge wreckage into small pieces. No attempt will be made to salvage any of the steel.

The purpose of the work will be to make pieces so small that when they drop to the bottom of the 100-foot river they will not cause future ice jams.

Meantime Attorney-General G. D. Cousart said at Toronto his department would prepare to take court action against the owners or lessees of the wrecked bridge for failure to remove the collapsed structure.

Public Account Deficit Shown Below Estimate

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—Public account for the fiscal year ended March 31 showed an overall deficit of $77,511,000 as compared with the estimate of $87,300,000 given by Finance Minister Dunning in his last budget, delivered Feb. 25, 1937.

Grants in aid to the provinces and the cost of other relief projects amounted to $69,252,000, which was estimated in the budget $80,000,000 would be needed. Other variations in special revenues and special expenditures brought about the better showing in the net addition to the Dominion debt which stood, at the end of the fiscal year, at $3,063,852,201.

BINGO BRINGS GOLD STREAM TO OPERATORS

Game In Winnipeg Draws Half Million Dollars a Year, Report

WINNIPEG, Feb. 3.—The Winnipeg Free Press Wednesday estimated the gold stream into the coffers of bingo houses in Winnipeg at $8,000 a year or $400,000 a year.

An average of 5,000 persons sit down every day before two, four or even six cards, costing between two for one cent, two for two cents, or 10 cents straight, the newspaper said.

"And that's not counting big bingo games held Sunday nights in two local churches, where average attendance at both institutions is in the hundreds." Names of the two churches were not revealed.

On Monday, Jan. 21, when the thermometer outside registered 25 below zero, a reporter walked into seven bingo parlors and counted 2,441 players. He estimated the average person spent at least 30 cents an evening.

Many of the operators of the newspaper said, distributed their takings as follows: 10 per cent expenses; 40 per cent prize, and 50 per cent for the operators.

The newspaper estimated the Winnipeggers spent $800,000 during the last three years and forecast that at the present rate of operation bingo proceeds in the next 12 months would add another $500,000.

ELECTION FOR SASKATCHEWAN IN JUNE SEEN

REGINA, Feb. 3.—Unless something entirely unforeseen happens in the meantime, the Saskatchewan government headed by Premier W. J. Patterson stands definitely committed to seek endorsement, or otherwise, from the people in June of this year, the Regina Star said Wednesday. It had learned from a reliable source.

The paper said Thursday.

Entirely aside from the direct information given The Star Wednesday, all signs point to an early election. It is reported political circles will probably be in the first two weeks of June.

A recent desire of many members of the legislature to contribute to the current debate in the house, the fact that Mr. T. C. Davis, attorney-general and the "mouthpiece" of the government, is scheduled for the three radio addresses in the near future, the lack of important legislation at the current session and the evident assistance of a desire to launch a new legislative and other matters that are under ordinary conditions all point to an early appeal to the voters.

BABY SOLON ASKS PROBE OF CHARGES

Rene Pelletier Calls On Parliament Investigate Alleged Corruption

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—A parliamentary investigation of Conservative Leader Bennett's charge that campaign funds were being used for the purpose of influencing the election of Bennett's government, was urged in the House of Commons Wednesday by Rene Pelletier (S.C., Peace River).

Campaign funds crossed the house several times, with Mr. J. Colville (C.C.F., Red Deer) suggesting the time had come when the House should be asked to publish the source of all contributions.

With the address debate continuing all afternoon, Vital Mallette (Lib., Quebec-Carleton Place) came out, defining against disallowance of the Quebec padlock bill or amending the British North America Act without the consent of all provinces.

OPINION OF PROVINCE

The topic bill, the Quebec Liberal stated, represented in a raw way, the opinion of the people of the province who were determined to stamp out Communism. Repetition of the law should be left to the people of Quebec and this government should not use its power to control it.

Campaign funds first were mentioned when Mr. Pelletier, a member of the house, asked the government the source of the day if it intended probing the Conservative leader's charges made Monday.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King, replying for the government, said no specific charge of corrupt election practices had been made and no petition presented for investigation. He reminded the house that the government had deposited $100,000 with a Supreme Court judge to act as a trustee of 25 people could petition parliament for an inquiry, after depositing $1,000.

DID NOT SATISFY

This reply apparently did not satisfy the Peace River Liberal, who returned to the question later. He urged setting up a house committee to investigate the Bennett charges and remove all stigma from the house of parliament.

"I do not believe any cabinet minister, past or present, would admit a thing like this," Mr. Pelletier stated, arguing the Conservative leader should be placed in the position of proving his charges.

CHARGES IGNORED

There was no reply from the government benches to the Pelletier suggestion. Since he made the charges, Mr. Bennett had made much money. In addition, it was the Conservative leader who claimed to have the facts in his possession.

ADVERTISING OFFICER

If a Canadian newspaper published advertising revenue, it would be a scandal. Mr. Bennett, who is advertising officer of the CBC, has been accused of using advertising revenue for his own purposes.
